- How will the new administration in Washington D.C. impact Arizona?
- What does the change in leadership mean for our environment?
 - Is our water, public lands and energy future secure?

Immigration and the minimum wage are making headlines but the political forces of today are also creating a new narrative on sustainability.

It's our responsibility to help shape that narrative.

Join Arizona Forward and Grant Woods, one of Arizona's most acclaimed and successful lawyers, for an enlightening perspective on environmental laws in place today, how they may change tomorrow and what it means to your sector and our quality of life!
